PRINTERS IN SESSION.

I. T. U. Convention Considers Offers For the Printer's Home.

Flattering Offer Made by the City of Colorado Springs.

C. S. Brice Elected Chairman of the Democratic Committee.

Appropriate Resolutions Passed Upon the Death of Barnum.

I. T. U. Convention.

DENVER, Col., June 12.—The [illegible] business of importance transacted by the typographical convention to-day was the consideration of several proposals offered by various cities for the location at those places of the home for aged printers. The most flattering came from Colorado Springs. The proposition made by Colorado Springs was as follows:

We offer to deed to the union an absolute eighty acres of land lying within one mile east of the city of Colorado Springs, subject to the following conditions:

First—That your union begin the erection of a home on said land within a period of two years from the date of said deed, said home to cost not less than $20,000 and to be completed within one year from the date of the commencement of said building.

Second—That your union shall have the right to sell any portion of said tract not exceeding sixty acres at any time after the date of said deed, the proceeds of said sale or sales to be placed in the hands of a trustee mutually acceptable to be applied by him if by you desired towards the erection of a home on this tract or to be paid over to the present owners of said tract in the event of a failure to commence the erection of the home within two years as above specified.

Third—That the taxes on said land for two years shall be borne by the union, it being guaranteed that the taxes shall not exceed $100 per annum, the amount of said taxes to be reimbursed to the union in event of a failure on your part to acquire said tract of eighty acres.

Fourth—That the deed for said tract shall be placed in escrow with some mutually acceptable party, to be delivered to your union upon compliance with the foregoing conditions.

Brice Elected.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The corridors of the Fifth Avenue hotel were crowded this morning with prominent democrats from all over the country who came to attend the meeting of the democratic national committee.

Shortly after noon the committee was called to order and Carlos French presented resolutions expressing regret at the death of Wm H. Barnum, eulogizing the deceased as a citizen and statesman, and for fidelity, liberality, impartiality, sound judgment, tireless energy and acute penetration into the causes of political results. Senator Gorman spoke at length of the good qualities of the departed. The resolutions were unanimously adopted.

Suitable resolutions on the death of Capt. F. W. Dawson, member of the committee from South Carolina were also adopted. On motion of Judge McHenry of Kentucky, and seconded by Senator Gorman of Maryland, Calvin S. Brice was then unanimously chosen chairman.

A Special Grand Jury.

CHICAGO, June 12.—A special grand jury to deal with the Cronin case was impaneled this morning in Judge Shepard's court. In addressing the jury Judge Shepard said that he expected a full, exhaustive and impartial investigation of the murder. The entire resources of the county, he said, would be at the disposal of the jury and witnesses who would not testify should be made to do so. The grand jury had in its possession the power to do this.

There are two Irishmen on the panel W. Jackson, a well known wholesale grocer, and O'Neil, ex county commissioner. After being charged by Judge Shepard as to their duties they repaired to the grand jury room and entered on the consideration of the case.

The greatest precautions are being taken to keep the proceedings secret although the jury went over the old ground and heard witnesses who had already told what they knew at the coroner's inquest. After the jury had organized they listened to the story of Lieutenant Schaettler who told what he knew of the case. Subpoenas were served on Dr. Cronin's friends, the saloon keeper Conklin and his wife, the two Carlsons, father and son, James Mullen, manager of Revell & Co., G. K. Throckmorton, clerk for Knight & Marshall, real estate agents, salesman W. H. Hatfield of Revell & Co., M. F. McHale, carpet layer for Revell & Co., Jos. Cronin, brother of Dr. Cronin, and Justice Mahoney of Lakeview.

Mr. Throckmorton told of the renting of the flat at No. 117 Clark street by J. B. Simmons. It took ten minutes. Mr. Hatfield related all about the purchase of the furniture at Revell & Co's. He came down in fifteen minutes. Justice Mahoney then entered the room and stayed for two hours, all the other witnesses being presently sent home. The magistrate was pressed very hard about the contract P. O. Sullivan had made with Dr. Cronin. It is reported that he was charged with having guilty knowledge of that contract with attempting to suppress a part of the truth about the so called Washington Literary [illegible] supposed murderers. Mahoney after a long examination emerged in very excited and nervous condition. The grand jury then adjourned until to-morrow.

Alexander Sullivan [illegible] callers this evening except his law partner and [illegible] workers who [illegible] cage got a glimpse of him. To a friend who sent Sullivan [illegible] office expressing unshaken confidence in him and a firm belief in his innocence the ex president of the Irish National league returned the following reply: "I am very grateful for your kind words. Time and the truth will justify you in their use. Sincerely,

ALEXANDER SULLIVAN."

CHICAGO, June 12.—A strong chain of circumstances has been woven about John J. Maroney, now under arrest in New York, as suspected of being connected with the murder of Dr. Cronin. The story as given by the police is as follows: Photographs were procured of Maroney and McDonald, the other man arrested in New York. These were mixed with a number of others and shown first to the salesman Hatfield of Revell & Co., who sold the furniture subsequently found in the Carlson cottage in which Dr. Cronin was murdered. Hatfield without hesitation picked up Maroney's portrait as that of the man to whom he sold the furniture. The pictures were then shown to Throckmorton, the real estate agent who rented the room [illegible] Throckmorton [illegible] picked out the picture of Maroney as the man to whom he rented the rooms. Once more the pictures were shuffled and this time they were shown to the expressman, Martenson, who carted the furniture to the Carlson cottage, with the same result. In each case the man had given his name as "J. B. Simmons."

Disastrous [illegible].

WILKESBARRE, Pa., June 12.—A disastrous cave-in took place here late this afternoon. The [illegible] settled portion of the city. They are one thousand feet [illegible] past no coal was exposed [illegible] in that portion underlying the city for fear the earth would sink. At Hancock the crash came and one of the principal thoroughfares of the city is filled with crevices from which gas escapes in huge volumes. The owners of houses are greatly alarmed. The men in the mines had all they could do to escape with their lives. Some of the [illegible] caved in the workings and killed. Eight hundred men and boys are thrown out of employment. The [illegible] loss will be over $100,000 and the loss to property owners on the surface will be double this amount.

Bad News from Hayti.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—Some excitement was manifested at the state and navy departments to-day upon the receipt of a cablegram from Commander Kellogg at Hayti. Secretary Tracy immediately communicated the information to Secretary Blaine who carried the news to the president. Every one connected with the state and navy departments who is in a position to know the contents of the cablegram refused to say anything about it except one official who complained that the sender did not appear to know much about the situation. Nevertheless it was generally believed in the department that the news from Hayti is not reassuring and it was currently reported that Capt. O'Kane has been ordered to sail immediately for the seat of trouble with the Boston which has just been refitted at New York.

Crooks Not Wanted.

DENVER, June 12.—Chief of Police Farley has determined to crack upon the crooks for the purpose of ridding the town of those pests. Last evening he [illegible] was notified to leave the city within twenty four hours. He protested but upon being informed that if he was found in the city to-night he would be [illegible] he concluded to leave and this morning departed for Aspen. [illegible] for Kansas City.

Destructive Storm in New York.

NEW YORK, June 12.—A severe wind and thunder storm visited New York and Brooklyn last evening. The lightning struck several places. A building in the course of erection in Brooklyn was blown down and six workmen buried [illegible] The [illegible] at East Newark was struck by lightning and set on fire. The loss will be from $25,000 to $30,000.

[illegible] Pittsburg [illegible]

The [illegible] sufferers were at the commissary station as early as usual this morning and stood around in the rain several hours before they were served. They have the same interested look as always since the flood and as the days roll by they do not seem to have any. In fact people here are just commencing to realize fully the terrible ordeal they have gone through. The excitement has kept them up heretofore. But they are now conscious of the situation and of a number of speeches [illegible] it will be [illegible]

For the first time since the calamity the people are commencing to talk of their financial losses and this seems to worry them as much as anything else, and to say that a vast number of former merchants are disheartened is putting it mildly. On all sides you will hear merchants exclaim: "It's no use, we will never recover from this, we have lost everything." General Hastings thinks there will be very little left of the million dollars furnished by the time the work [illegible]

Plot in Belgrade.

VIENNA, June 12.—The Tagblatt has information from Belgrade that a plot exists to dethrone the young king, Alexander, and proclaim Prince Peter Karageorgevitch as king.

Younger Amused.

STILLWATER, Minn., June 12.—Cole Younger, the notorious outlaw who is in the penitentiary here with his two brothers, was somewhat amused to hear of his own death out in Wyoming and was at a loss to account for the report until he remembered that a Cheyenne has for sometime been the headquarters for a noted "Joe McBratton." He thinks he would be willing to run the risk of being drowned if he could only be released from the state prison.

RAILROAD HORROR.

Seventy Seven Persons Killed While on a Pleasure Trip.

A Disaster Unparalleled in the History of the Country.

[illegible] Held Responsible For the Accident.

[illegible] Armagh [illegible] says that seven [illegible] have been taken from the [illegible]

[illegible], June 12.—The following particulars were received tonight in regard to the accident to the excursion train. The excursion party left Armagh this morning in two trains. [illegible] at a point where [illegible] had to ascend a grade on a [illegible] feet high. The first train ascended the grade without trouble. The second section attempted to ascend but the weight of the train proved too great for the engine. Several cars were detached and were allowed to run back to [illegible] the level track but before they reached it they came in collision with an ordinary train from Armagh which was proceeding at a good rate of speed. The excursion cars were completely wrecked.

Hosts of volunteers were soon at hand and the dead and wounded were taken from the wreck and carried down the bank. Medical aid was called and a special train from Belfast was brought to the scene on which were twenty surgeons from that city and a number of medical men from other places. The disaster is unparalleled in the history of Ireland. All the shops in Armagh were closed this afternoon and the people are in general mourning. The engineer, fireman and the guard of the train and the traffic manager's clerk were summoned before a magistrate and were remanded on the charge of being responsible for the accident.

The shrieks of the children were horrible. Many were mangled beyond recognition. There is scarcely a family in Armagh that has not some one dead and in many cases whole families were killed. The embankment on which the accident occurred is over fifty feet high. Before starting on the fatal excursion the children paraded through the streets of Armagh with flags and banners and the town folk turned out almost en masse to wish them a happy holiday. The train consisted of fifteen carriages. The bulk of the children were in the front of the train. Only about one dozen children were killed, the majority of the victims being about twenty years of age. They were in the last carriage which was completely smashed. All the bodies have now been taken from the wreck. The total number of killed is seventy-two, of which sixty-four have been identified. The number of injured is about one third of the entire number of passengers. Many of these are certain to succumb to the effects of their injuries.

District Court.

The time of the district court yesterday was almost altogether taken up in considering civil business. The most important case disposed of was that of the Manitou Grand Caverns, which has been in court for several years. Mr. Rinehart, who owns the "Cave of the Winds" property has for a number of years claimed a half interest in the Grand Caverns on the grounds of certain surveys. The case has had two trials and it has been decided in favor of both sides. The defendant, Mr. George Snyder, who lost the last time, was entitled to another trial but the law required that his motion for a new trial should be made within thirty days and that all costs should be paid. He thought that all bills had been paid but by some clerical error part of them were overlooked. Mr. Rinehart's attorney made a motion to strike the case from the docket, as the law had not been complied with. The case was argued by Mr. R. T. McNeil of Denver, for the plaintiff, and Judge McMorris for the defendant but the court decided to sustain the motion. Notice of an appeal to the supreme court was given. Unless the decision is reversed in that court, Mr. Rinehart secures a half interest in the Grand Caverns.

Trial of the case of the People vs. Edward Kelly for the killing of James Phillips at Manitou Junction was set for the 24th.

People vs. Wm. Brooks for false imprisonment was continued to the November term. This case grew out of the McCombs rape case.

The cases of the people vs. Remmer and McFarland were ordered nullified. It will be remembered that these are the men against whom indictments were found for illegal voting at the municipal election [illegible] of 1888.

An order was entered appointing a commission to act in the disposal of [illegible]

In the case of B[illegible] vs. Board of County Commissioners for damage by a defect in a bridge the court listened to the arguments on a demurrer. The demurrer was overruled and trial of the case will probably be set for some time this week. The plaintiff was awarded $300 damages in the county court and the case comes up on appeal. Court will open at 9 o'clock this morning.

The directors of the Bell telephone company have declared a regular quarterly dividend of $3 per share and an extra dividend of $6.

REAL : ESTATE!

BEWARE!

Don't Go Three Miles Out in the Country for Lots, when you can get them for the Same Money in PARRISH'S ADDITION!

Only 3 Blocks from Cascade Avenue!

Only 3 Blocks from The Antlers Hotel!

Only 4½ Blocks from Post-Office!

THE STREETS IN PARRISH'S ADDITION

Are 100 to 140 feet in width. THE ALLEYS are all 20 feet wide. There are no 60 or 80 feet streets, and narrow, 10-feet alleys, such as are found in other loudly advertised "Additions," with high sounding titles, where you pay high prices for lots, without duly considering that you are throwing away your money.

In the Alley Behind Every Lot in Parrish's Addition

There is a 3-inch Water Pipe, connected at Chestnut street with a 16-inch main; the Largest in the City's System. THE MAIN CITY DITCH, taking pure, clear water from the Fountain, runs just back of PARRISH'S ADDITION, and within a stone's throw of it.

YOU ARE SURE TO GET WATER

(Both from Pipes and Ditch) in PARRISH'S ADDITION if there is any water in the Fountain, even if other parts of the city are suffering from scarcity of the precious fluid.

REMEMBER THE FOREGOING, and then, when I tell you I will sell you a First-Class

LOT IN PARRISH'S ADDITION FOR $350

To $1,000 a full size lot 50 by 190 feet do not hesitate a moment about buying. You can buy two lots on a corner, and erect pretty little cottages ACROSS THEM, giving each cottage a neat, pretty little yard, and readily rent them, owing to the location, etc.

To Pay You 25 to 35 Per Cent Per Annum on the Entire Investment.

WHERE CAN YOU DO THIS ELSEWHERE?

THE STREET CAR LINE RUNS THROUGH PARRISH'S ADDITION, from East to West, and will doubtless soon be extended to the North, past the "Mesa Road," up to THE ROCK ISLAND SHOPS. Lots are sold on Terms to Suit Buyers, if possible.

I AM ALSO SELLING

LOTS IN CALVERT HEIGHTS!

On Easy Terms, and at from $300 to $100. They bear very much the same relation to

COLORADO CITY,

As do Parrish Addition Lots to Colorado Springs, and

I CAN RECOMMEND THEM AS AN INVESTMENT!

CALVERT HEIGHTS!

Is surrounded by growing and progressive enterprises. THE MIDLAND SHOPS lie at its Northeast corner. Colorado City proper is North and Northeast of it. Bott's Additions join it on the North and Northwest. Colorado Springs itself is in full view, only two miles to the Southeast, and last though not least important,

The * Great * Glass * Manufacturing * Works

Are erected and in operation just south of CALVERT HEIGHTS. I have arranged to have every lot supplied with PURE WATER IN PIPES.

THE LOCATION IS SUPERB!

THE SURROUNDING VIEWS ARE MAGNIFICENT!

Last year I recommended you to buy lots in Parrish's Addition, and they have paid a better Profit than any other lots on the market. This year I urge you to add to YOUR INVESTMENT AS MANY LOTS IN CALVERT HEIGHTS as you can afford to buy, with the result that, before the year is out, you will again be glad that you have taken my advice.

CALL EARLY! BUY SOON!

There are not very many lots altogether, and those who apply late, may find them all gone, and will have to Pay an Advance.

THE ELECTRICAL WAY

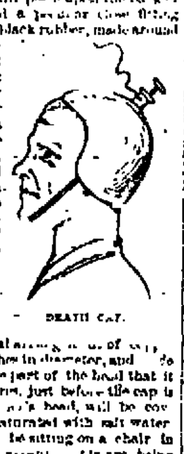
How Judge [illegible] Will Be Solved by Murderer K[illegible]ler.

Nearly all the arrangements have been completed for the execution of Joseph Kemmler by electricity during the week beginning June 24. Kemmler, it will be [illegible] murdered his mistress Tillie Ziegler in Buffalo, and he was the first man sentenced to die in the new fashion. The New York Sun details the proceedings on the day of the death of Kemmler, so far as they are at present arranged, the main points of which are as follows, the execution taking place in the state prison at Auburn, N. Y.

On whatever morning shall be decided upon in the week of the execution the prisoner will be notified and whatever opportunity he desires for religious consolation and farewell words will be given him. Those over just before the hour fixed upon for the execution the officers will enter his cell and the cell will [illegible] will be read. His shoes will then be removed and a pair of [illegible] slipping army [illegible] will be substituted.

In the seat of these there will have been [illegible] special metal plate covering the whole sole [illegible] with wires passing out through the heels. While one officer is making this exchange another will fasten the prisoner's hands together in front and will place around his body, just below the armpits, a stout leather strap with a buckle fastening it in front and snap hooks projecting from each side at the back.

Another officer will place upon the back of the prisoner's head a peculiar close fitting cap, apparently of black rubber, made around a small metal piece in the center. It will be a cap made as if made by taking a rubber football and with a metal cap at the hole for a [illegible], cutting off the end of the ball into a sort of hood. The cap will fit over almost the whole of the head, from the base of the brain to well toward the forehead. Inside of it in the center about the metal piece will be a spiral arrangement of wire, about five inches in diameter, and [illegible] to fit down over the part of the head that it will cover. The wires, just before the cap is placed on the prisoner's head, will be covered with sponge saturated with salt water.



DEATH CAP.

The prisoner will be sitting on a chair in his cell while these arrangements are being put on. This chair, not differing [illegible] from an ordinary one, but which is being made especially for the purpose, will be connected with wires leading to another room, and the prisoner sitting in the chair will, without knowing it, be subjected to a current of electricity too light to be felt, but heavy enough to give an expert electrician in the other room an exact [illegible] by the use of what is known as the "Wheatstone bridge," of electrical resistance of the man. This will take only an instant and will be done before the officers have the prisoner ready to leave the cell.

From the cell the prisoner will be [illegible] as now to the execution room, where the deputies and other persons permitted by law to witness the execution will be waiting.

Near the center of the room, raised on a small platform about eight inches above the floor, will be a [illegible] somewhat like a large [illegible]. The long, straight frame that forms the [illegible] back will be of hard wood [illegible] and will be long [illegible] that if a [illegible] foot man [illegible] in the chair his head would rest upon the back.

The seat and arms will be of [illegible] without any [illegible]. The upper part of the back from each side will be fitted with a slot, in which will slide back and forth a small [illegible] with a ring at the top and a thumb screw beneath. The rings are to receive the hooks in the back of the belt about the man's body, and the screws are to fasten the arrangement in place at the spot where the rings will meet the hooks, which will vary according to the height of the prisoner. In front of the chair will be a foot rest, something like the [illegible] in a barber's shop, except that the top portion, instead of being fixed, will be [illegible] upon a pivot to permit it to dip front or back so that the feet will lie firmly upon it. This whole foot rest will be [illegible] to slide backward and forward, and [illegible] with a screw at the [illegible] the foot will rest upon it.

From the ceiling over the back of the chair and over the foot [illegible] will [illegible] two flexible wires, like those from which small [illegible] lights [illegible]. On the wall at one side will be a small round dial attached to a [illegible]. A hand upon the dial will [illegible] the [illegible] of the current that will pass over the wires. Near it on the wall will be a small double pole switch, a brass instrument similar to the familiar switch used to shut off or let on the current where electricity is used, but designed especially to show at a glance whether the current is off or on, in order to prevent accident which careless [illegible] in handling the apparatus might bring about. This will be all of the apparatus apparent in the room.

The prisoner, immediately upon entering the room, will be led to the chair, and in a [illegible] will be pushed back into it, the hooks in the belt about his body slipped into the rings in the chair, and there fastened in place by the turn of the screw. At the same moment his feet will be put upon the foot rest slipped under them and fastened by a turn of the screw, and a strap on top of the rest will be buckled tightly over his ankles. In another moment the two dangling wires will be fastened, one to the [illegible] at the center of the back of the cap and the other to the metal connection in the heel of each shoe. A black cloth will be [illegible] over the face of the prisoner, the [illegible] will stand well back from the [illegible] at a signal the executioner at the switch will turn on the current, the volume of which has previously been adjusted to suit the resistance of the prisoner, as shown in the test in the cell.

The [illegible] is to use a current of [illegible] volts, it is said, as that used in the [illegible] street lighting system. The [illegible] average man is about [illegible] current will be calculated to [illegible] above and below.

An Accommodating Clerk.

Clerk (in cheap [illegible] clothing shop to customer)—This overcoat is the best I can do for you. It may be a trifle [illegible], but it will be just right for the next Spring and save buying a new one. These boys grow so.

Customer—Grow? I hope he won't; he is an infant planter and keeps the whole family.

Clerk (whispering in the ear of the customer)—Well, I don't mind telling you this is what we call our [illegible] accommodation garment. Send your little boy over in the rain [illegible], and it will fit him so that you will have to use a shoe horn [illegible].

[illegible] Arrested.

Denver [illegible] special to the Republican: Michael Mulhall, who has been [illegible] at Rice's marble yards No. 1625 [illegible] street for the past two weeks, has been arrested on the charge of complicity in the robbery of the Aspen Smelting and [illegible] company of $35,000 worth of ore from the mine. He will be returned to Aspen.

Dion Boucicault's latest [illegible] the New Review [illegible] A. M. Palmer [illegible] Mr. Henry [illegible] "After the Play."

One of the most [illegible] New York [illegible] which was [illegible] The [illegible] "The [illegible]" [illegible] dramatic art are [illegible] for the first time, in the June number of the Cosmopolitan magazine.

The election of Calvin S. Brice to the office of chairman of the democratic national [illegible] shows that Mr. Cleveland still has a firm grip on the party reins. Those democrats who feel that the last campaign was mismanaged, and there are a vast number who are of this opinion, would undoubtedly have preferred some other man but it was Mr. Cleveland's wish that Brice should have the place and it was as that Mr. Cleveland's wish was law in this case. Brice can hardly prove more of a failure in the position than was the late chairman and this may be some consolation to those who were opposed to his election.

There seems to be a remarkable difference of opinion as to the part the late Hon. Leonard Swett took in the famous Chicago convention of 1860. Some papers credit Mr. Swett with the speech nominating Lincoln and a number of others state that he seconded the nomination. One of the Chicago papers says that Mr. Swett's brilliant oratory and effective reasoning in presenting the name of Mr. Lincoln had not a little to do with bringing about the desired result. As a matter of fact Mr. Swett neither nominated nor seconded Lincoln. Hon. Norman Judd of Chicago placed Mr. Lincoln's name before the convention and [illegible] in doing so it published [illegible] in the St. Louis Globe-Democrat of Tuesday. It was "I desire on behalf of the delegation from Illinois to place in nomination as a candidate for president of the United States, Abraham Lincoln, of Illinois." Mr. Swett was an ardent Lincoln man and did a great deal of work both before and after the nomination in Lincoln's behalf but he was not even a member of the Chicago convention of 1860.

During the latter part of Mr. Cleveland's administration the civil service commission had become almost a dead letter. The vacancy caused by the resignation of Mr. Oberly was never filled, the official head of the commission, Judge Edgerton openly sneered at the laws he was supposed to enforce and the remaining member, Mr. Lyman was unable to accomplish anything beyond the routine business of the bureau. Under these circumstances it was not strange that the laws should be frequently disregarded. But the newly reorganized commission has gone actively to work and has already accomplished much. It has been known for some time that the examinations for the civil service have been in many instances conducted, to say the least, in a very irregular manner. The fact that only about one republican to ten democrats has been able to pass the examinations in certain government offices as for instance the New York custom house and the Philadelphia postoffice is suspicious. The new commission has made an investigation of the examinations in the New York custom house and found that they have been farcical. It has not been because the republican applicants have been less intelligent than the democratic that so large a proportion of the latter have been successful, but because an unscrupulous examining board has not hesitated to disregard the laws governing the examinations and to place democrats in office by fraudulent methods. The report of the commission's investigation shows that a number of clerks connected with the custom house have furnished democratic applicants with papers previous to the time of examinations, and have in other ways been dishonest. The removal of these clerks has been recommended but the authorities should not stop there. The clerks should be proceeded against just as they would be had they violated any other law on the statute books.

WASHINGTON, June 12.—A delegation of Virginia republicans opposed to General Mahone, appointed last month, called on the president today by appointment. They held a secret conference of twenty minutes. The delegation presented their grievance against Mahone. The president said he did not think it a part of his functions to undertake to settle party disputes. As far as he was concerned he did not intend to give recognition to any one faction in the party and had expressed the same views to a delegation of Mahone republicans which called on him yesterday.

ARE YOU GOING ABROAD!

IF FOR THE FIRST TIME BE PROPERLY EQUIPPED

Take Warm Clothing for the Ocean Trip. Take Your Yankee Notions. Don't Take Trunks on the Continent.—P... Where to Carry Valu...

[Special Correspondence.]

LONDON, May 24.—It is confidently asserted by those who might be expected to know, that 90,000 Americans have come and are coming to Europe this summer, and that the great transatlantic lines are making preparations accordingly, and that some of them at least, intend to put on extra steamers. Of these 90,000 passengers more than half will cross the ocean for the first time, and many of them will be at greater or less disadvantage through ignorance as to the requirements of the journey. In the first place, then, it is always cold on the north Atlantic, even in midsummer. The far proximity of an iceberg is sufficient to send the thermometer uncomfortably low. Therefore to be anything like comfortable, you must be warmly clad. If a man take your thickest winter suit —if a woman, the warmest walking suit you have. Nobody dresses up on board ship, so wear your pretty traveling costume to the steamer, then take it off and lay it away in your steamer trunk until the docks of Liverpool are sighted or looked for. Your Saratoga trunk, if you have one, will be stored away in the hold of the ship and you will not see it until you are called upon to pick it out from the mass of baggage at the custom house. The limits of a steamer trunk are 13 inches in height, 2 feet wide and 3 feet 6 inches in length. In your steamer trunk put everything you need for the voyage. Your ... suit, a set of ... arctic overshoes, since in rough weather the steerers' decks are frequently flooded, two veils such as you would wear at home in the coldest weather—one will not last you if you have run on the passage—a warm hood or knotted shawl for your head, a heavy blanket shawl, or "rug," as the English call it, thick mittens and a warm wrapper for wear in your state room. A fur lined wrap will be none too warm, but by far the best cloak for the journey is a heavy cloth ulster covering you from head to foot, buttoned all the way—a regular storm coat, in fact. The only comfortable looking lady passenger on the steamship on which I came over had such a one of ... proof cloth, Scotch tweed, I think, lined throughout with flannel, with hood to match.

It is not ... to provide yourself with a steamer chair, since on the regular Atlantic ... vide your own, mark it legibly with your name, and you can leave it at the steamship office.

If you are a man postpone the purchase of any outside clothing you may require until you reach England; it is much cheaper here. Shirts, cuffs and collars are better for the ... in America. Hosiery and merino underwear are much the same price. All American soaps and perfumes cost less at home, and vice versa. If you are a woman bring any pretty clothes you have along; indeed, if you have a good moderate priced dressmaker it will pay you to have one or two new suits made. The American fashions are quite as new as those over here, and American fits are better except for the more expensive places. I heard an English member of Mary Anderson's company regretting that she had not laid in a supply of American notions before sailing. "They are so much cheaper, and some of them you can't get at all in London," she said. Of course, as England is a free trade country, you pay duty on nothing but spirits, which means liquors of all sorts, cologne, etc., and tobacco. If, however, your boxes of cigars and bottles of whisky have been opened and partly used, they pass free, unless you have more than two of them. A tip to the custom house officer will usually persuade that official to be satisfied with a perfunctory poke through your baggage to be sure that no bottles or cigar boxes are hidden therein.

In England every one dresses for the ... and a dress suit is obligatory for every gentleman at the theatres ... dinner—in fact everywhere after 7 o'clock p. m. American women are allowed to wear high bodices everywhere except to court, where special permission to do so is necessary; but the high bodice must be accompanied by a lace fichu and ... in evening style. But a low or half high corsage is considered in much better taste. Light suede gloves are obligatory at the theatre or at any evening entertainment.

To go back to the steamer, from which the question of clothing has withdrawn us, very little advice can be given with regard to the subject of seasick... You will probably have a more or less attack of it anyway, unless you are an old sailor. But you may generally insure the less by temperate diet for a day or two and a cathartic taken within twenty-four hours before sailing. Many voyagers fall victims to the kindness of their friends. A breakfast or supper which will give you a headache on shore is pretty certain to produce severe mal de mer on the ocean.

An ... ... abroad, so that it is not necessary to convert all your funds into foreign exchange. You will, however, need a few pounds for tips, etc., on the steamer. These vary with the amount of service you require, from half a sovereign to a pound for steward or stewardess. A man is not expected to fee the stewardess nor a woman the steward. The table steward—there are no waiters on board ship—expects half a sovereign from each person at his table. Five shillings is the correct tip for the deck steward, ... takes care of your chair ... A collection ... for ... crown, and the librarian for a shilling or two from each of ... It is wisdom to follow the English custom and defer these gratuities until the last hours of the voyage since the substance of things hoped for is a most potent incentive to good service. The best way to carry all but this change and enough to pay expenses to London is in a letter of credit ... banker can provide you, ... you draw as may be expedient. It is a good plan, unless your stay abroad is to be a long one, to purchase a round trip ticket; it costs less and the ticket is good for a berth on any ship of the same line. In England passports are unnecessary. On the continent they will be found a great convenience, especially in out of the way places. In Greece, Turkey and Egypt, as well as in Russia, they are a necessity, and the lack of them may occasion much annoyance. OUR NEW YORK LETTER.

How They Have to ... to Earn ... Living.

[Special Correspondence.]

NEW YORK, June 12.—From time to time young people ... I have lived in country places, and I have also lived in cities, and my ... has thrown me much among the working girls ... who are ... service to any young girl who feels ... does not offer ... I shall here mention some of the things they must expect and what they can earn at different avocations.

Pay for ... is not ... than half as high in Philadelphia as in New York, but the cost of living is ... here. Rent is high in New York and board dear, which causes girls to herd together in ... and ... lives of whole ... food, and live for the most part upon tea and bread, with ... pie or cheap cakes, or, perhaps, little ... of poorly cooked food, which they can buy in the ... stores. Here a pickled pig's foot costs five ..., a plate of pork and beans the same, and so on, but few of these ... are really ... and, with hard work, poor ventilation and ... of all home comforts, soon break down the girl ... fresh ... country air, with home cooking and, above all, with ... The girls born here and ... to the life of working women are better able to bear the hard and constant strain of work ..., and also better able to withstand the ... of city life.

The avocations open to working girls are many, but so are the workers, and it is estimated that there are over 100,000 of them in New York alone. They are employed as clerks, stenographers, typewriters, ... dressmakers, ... book ... shoe binders, operators on ... and in large factories, box makers, fur sewers, tailoresses, cloak makers, milliners, cigar makers, and a multitude of other trades and ... less lucrative.

... and ... who do the ... which requires more or less mental ... proficiency in their profession, earn good wages, but it makes the average country girl open her eyes at the degree of perfection required. I know dressmakers who receive $30 per week, and others who do not earn five. It is that way all through. Cloak makers and tailors who do the best ... get but $10 per week. Fur sewers make from $6 to $10 at this ... filthy bus...

There are now over 30,000 ... girls in the streets of New York, for the most part driven there by the life of ... toil, privation and misery they led while trying to earn an honest living.

Board and lodging cannot be had in a decent place less than $5 per week, washing and car fare take $1, and out of the ... earnings of ... skillful or partially skillful labor, ... are the ... the ... other ... you, ... to come from! Dear girls, if you have ... no matter how poor, do not try to win your ... in the cities, but try to ... and make the most of your opportunities where you are.

CHICAGO, June 12.—William Ashley, a park driver, was arrested this morning, charged with robbing J. L. Lamb of his coat and papers valued at $3000, and a small amount of money. Lamb, who is a mine superintendent in Colorado, came to Chicago on business and was out to see the town last night. He told Ashley to drive him around and upon recovering from the result he found his property gone.

STONE CUTTERS' TROUBLES

Ever since the Chicago firm of Grace, Griffith & Hyde took the contract for the new bank block there has been considerable feeling and talk among the stone cutters and stone contractors of the city. According to the stone cutters the firm is not employing its men according to ... with union rules as has been ... The following contractors of the city ... ling is given as a statement of their position. Previous to May 1st the stone cutters were working eight hours a day and receiving $4. Since that date they have been getting $4.50 per day, and the raise was only made after a three months' ...

For a year or more past the stone cutters have had a local organization and have been working under the rules of the stone cutters union of Denver, but have had no charter of their own. Since that they have received a charter. Grace, Griffith & Hyde are working their men ten hours a day and not paying the scale. This is the grievance of the stone cutters. For the purpose of compelling the firm to employ union men the stone cutters have notified Snyder Bros., of Manitou, who are furnishing the stone for the building, that they will no longer handle the stone from their quarries if they continue to do so. The stone cutters union of Denver and Pueblo has also adopted resolutions to the same effect. As Snyder Bros have a contract to furnish Grace, Griffith & Hyde with stone for the building this may cause them considerable trouble. The resident stone contractors are watching the case with considerable interest, as they claim that they cannot pay union wages and bid for work against firms that do not.

A GAZETTE reporter asked Mr. Hyde, of the firm of Grace, Griffith & Hyde, yesterday what his position was in the matter, but he replied that he knew of no trouble. That he was attending to his own business and paying his men every two weeks. He would talk no further regarding it. Mr. Geo. Snyder, of the firm of Snyder Bros., was also asked how they stood in the matter and he exhibited a contract with the firm to furnish it with stone to show how they were tied up in the matter. The following communication has been handed the GAZETTE for publication by Mr. J. E. Go..., ...ding secretary of the stone cutters union of this city:

COLORADO SPRINGS, June 12, 1889.

To the Editor of the G...:

I am instructed by our br... to give our view of the trouble in regard to our organizing a branch of the General Union Journeymen Stone Cutters association of North America, for the explanation of ... the contractors of the bank building Grace, Griffith & Hyde. I will state that it is false in ... of the word, and that we organized a union a week ago is also false. The stone cutters of this city ... May 17. Mr. Hyde, and ... Mr. Grace ... of Colorado Springs. I replied that we are working eight hours per day and four ... and one-half paid for the same. They said that four dollars ... they would work ten hours as they were limited to time on the work. I replied that they would ... ibly have trouble getting stone cutters to work ten hours at the same rate of wages as we worked the same hours at the same rate of wages as Denver. They inquired when we held our next ... and I informed them. They left us with the remark, "We will see you again." Five days later, May the 22d, I received notice of an ad... in the St. Louis Globe Democrat for 20 stone cutters at $4.50 per day of ten hours work and signed "D. C. Wurts." On the eve of the 27th I met Mr. Hyde, on the corner of Pike's Peak avenue and Tejon street and inquired if he had succeeded in getting any stone cutters. He replied I have. I am going to make a start in the morning. I ... if he was going to work ten hours, he replied yes, I am. I asked if he was acquainted with the stone cutters' ... lation rules; he said he was. I then said you are aware that if you start your work ten hours you shut your work up against the stone cutters of Colorado Springs. They cannot work for you as it is against their rules in this city and Denver and all the cities in the union. I also informed him that if he shipped non union men into Colorado Springs and started them on his work that in case he wanted to open his work to the stone cutters of the state that they would not start on his work until these men were removed. He said he would give the local stone cutters in this city work, and work ten hours, and walked away. He did start the work at ten hours in violation of the rules and customs in this city or any other city. We have been working eight hours stone cutters and ... since a year past May the 3d, and had been working eight hours on ... contracts previous to May 3, 1888. Saturday June 1st I called on Mr. Hyde and invited him to our meeting. I called that evening, stating that we had not taken any action whatever on his work to date. He did not put in an appearance at the meeting. Those working there were also notified that such action as is the custom the world over among ... cutters would be taken in their case. The Branch that evening appointed a committee to wait on Mr. Hyde, and th... working there, on Monday morning, June the 3d. Mr. Hyde informed our committee that he tried on three different occasions to get an audience with the stone cutters of this city and could not. He also said "We have made our rules and started ten hours, and we will follow them." Of course that settled all debate. They did not intend employing Colorado mechanics or home labor from the ... Th... ... ... of Colorado, the wages paid to ... cutters and the hours that constitute a day's work here and elsewhere. They made inquiry at Red Rock canon quarries when they first called to inquire the price of material what the rate of wages were, and they were informed that four dollars for eight hours was ... paid at present and that after May first four dollars and fifty six cents per day for eight hours or fifty seven cents per hour would be the standard wages paid. There was about three months notice given to contractors in Denver and elsewhere and in this city to give them time to complete what work they had on hand as is our custom throughout the world. Grace, Griffith & Hyde informed the quarrymen that they would not pay a ... stone cutter ... forty cents an hour ... and they would work ten hours. ... That was generally known by all the proprietors of Red Rock canon quarries. They were informed that they would have trouble and scoffed the idea. Impressed with those facts and surrounding circumstances they came here to defraud and grind down the brains and sinew of Colorado Springs and the community at large. They came here as they did at Topeka, ... where the stone cutters work eight hours per day ... under the self same circumstances with the same treatment they advance here that is that they were limited to ten hours per day and pay must work ten hours per day and pay wages below the standard.

To add insult to injury they bring to our city inaccurate ... stone cutters who are published every month in the Stone Cutters Journal," read by 30,000 of our craft. Why Grace, Griffith & Hyde see fit to work in opposition to the rules and custom of the whole geography of stone cutters, is a mystery to me. If there was anything in it they might be justified, but there is not. On the contrary there is loss of material, inferior work, that must be re-cut and paid for two or three times. Mr. Hyde's argument is to the effect that we must work ten hours to complete our work on time. They are not compelled to do any such thing. If they work four men one day of ten hours at five dollars per day they figure forty hours at a cost of twenty dollars. Then if they work five men according to our rules eight hours at four and one half dollars per day they figure the same number of hours as worked by the four men, at a cost of twenty two and one half dollars per day making two dollars and one half per day for the fifth man. They can put on an extra man with every four men they employ at the same rate, and work the desired amount of hours per day. Also, they can fill their shop with choice material, the best mechanics in the country, thereby realizing from thirty to sixty per cent more in work done and a saving of ... material than they can do by filling their shop with rain... d stone cutters. Mr. Hyde is credited with the remark, "I have been forced to pay union men four dollars per day when they were really not worth three and one half." For his information I will state that he is not compelled to do anything of the kind. Because a man is a union man he is not compelled to keep him. If his work does not pay, let him go and get a better one; and he will not have to advertise in the St. Louis Globe Democrat for him, either. Colorado is full of first class stone cutters and good fast men.

Article 23 of our constitution reads: "This branch will recognize any person as a regular employe whether a practical stone cutter or otherwise so long as he is willing to conform to our laws." When they see fit to open their work to our branch we are ready to execute it in a workman-like manner.

I am very sorry that our members could not satisfy the demand of the bank ... cutting on the bank is difficult ... to the ... cutters of Colorado than if it ... association of North America.

MONUMENT MATTERS.

MONUMENT, June 12, 1889.

A heavy frost visited the Divide on Sunday night. Mr. R. C. Herrick of the Ash Rock ranch informs us of the total loss of his corn crop. Messrs. J. D. Nees, of Greenland, and Richard Millright, of Gwillimville, report a frost with less damage to the crops in their vicinity.

Hon. Charles D. Ford is the recipient of numerous congratulations upon the subject of his appointment to the office of register in the U. S. land office at Lamar. Mr. Ford leaves here with the best wishes of our people for his future prosperity. His family will remain at Monument, this being Mr. Ford's home. In his future frequent visits Mr. Ford will always be welcomed by a large number of admiring friends.

G. W. Musser, of the a...or's office at Colorado Springs, was a visitor at this place on Sunday last. We also notice that Hon. D. McShane, of the Springs, was the guest of his son Albert.

Stock Market.

NEW YORK, June 12.—The stock market again showed a gain for the total amount of business done to-day but while the tone of the dealings during the greater portion of the time was firm to strong it was not fully maintained in the latter hours and the final figures are something off from the best of the day. Material advances were made in the grangers followed by Vanderbilt, Louisville and Nashville, and others.

[illegible] Carnot wore a very [illegible] gown of white [illegible] with [illegible] of [illegible] and [illegible] in her hair. One does not [illegible] about Mme. Carnot [illegible] and a [illegible] in the [illegible] as she [illegible] by [illegible] give the [illegible] an idea of the charm she [illegible] over all who [illegible] with a [illegible] which is [illegible] natural. [illegible] eyes are [illegible] with [illegible] and [illegible] her fine [illegible] accord well with her grace and [illegible] with exquisite taste.

The [illegible] wore the [illegible] suit, and with the wide ribbon of the [illegible] of Honor over his right should[er] [illegible] He is rather a fine look[ing] [illegible]

As soon as the dinner was finished the [illegible] began to arrive for the reception, and [illegible] the [illegible] where the [illegible] and Mme. Carnot [illegible] by [illegible] and hundreds of brilliantly [illegible] officers. Behind them stood two Arab chiefs, their [illegible] with glittering [illegible] and very [illegible] in their [illegible] white [illegible] They were very much admired. Side doors [illegible] which permitted the new comers to pass [illegible] after [illegible] the president and his wife, into new galleries which have [illegible] for this very purpose. The [illegible] really surround the entire palace [illegible] They are [illegible] wide by thirty-five and sixty [illegible] long. There is also a large salon about thirty yards long by thirty-five wide, which [illegible] the walls [illegible] covered with [illegible] and [illegible] in [illegible]

The Gobelin [illegible] in the long gallery [illegible] the [illegible] of Don Quixote, and [illegible] the [illegible] subjects [illegible]

[illegible] gallery or [illegible] on the gar[den] [illegible] and [illegible] and ready, [illegible] De Gaut [illegible] and [illegible] lighted with electricity, [illegible] and on this [illegible] were [illegible]

[illegible] the [illegible] was a [illegible] of the old nobility, and a [illegible] glitter and show of [illegible] all [illegible] new.

The [illegible] on entering moved forward and [illegible] low before the [illegible] and his lady, but did not offer to shake [illegible] and [illegible] one had a charming [illegible] all cut and [illegible] and ready to spring on them. All they were expected to do in return was to [illegible] and look [illegible] I could not help [illegible] a half a dozen photographs all ready wound up to catch the bright and [illegible] things that were [illegible] but I [illegible] and

Edison, who [illegible] is expected [illegible] to put in an appearance.

As soon as the guests had [illegible] all the [illegible] they [illegible] off to different parts of the palace and wandered around chatting with [illegible] until they were tired, but all was decorous and pleasant, and not quite so much like branding cattle as our presidential receptions [illegible] too close.

THE GAZETTE.

THURSDAY, JUNE 18, 1889.

Mr. F. M. Fish, Pueblo excursion agent, has his headquarters at The Antlers hotel this city and the Mansions at Manitou.

Cards have been received announcing the wedding of Mr. H. S. Pooley of this city and Miss Margaret Ferguson of Philadelphia.

The contract for the grading of the Colorado City road has been let to Mr. David McShane at the rate of 30 cents per yard, he being the lowest bidder.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Dwinell of Battle Creek, Mich., parents of Mr. L. E. Dwinell, are expected to arrive in the city to-day, for an extended visit. They are quite an aged couple.

Grand Army of the Republic Post No. 22 of this city appropriated $25 at its meeting on Tuesday night for the relief of the Johnstown sufferers. The amount will be sent to swell the fund which the department of Colorado is raising.

The "Palace" barber shop on Tejon street is now conducted by Mr. Henry Kranz and Mr. William Tiffeth. They are putting in some fine baths which, when completed, will give them one of the most complete tonsorial parlors in the city.

The excursion next Sunday given by The Jackson Hose company will afford the citizens of Colorado Springs and vicinity a fine chance to enjoy a day at one of the most popular mountain resorts as well as an opportunity to show their appreciation of our volunteer firemen.

Mrs. De Courcey and Mrs. Harp who have been receiving donations for the Johnstown sufferers were enabled to dispatch seven bales and one trunk of clothing yesterday which have been contributed. The express companies sent them free of charge and the Western Union telegraph company sent all messages regarding them free.

Chas. Voss & Co. have their cigar manufactory at No. 20, W. Huerfano street, running in good condition. Mr. Voss is lately from Concordia, Kan., and is a practical cigar maker. He has established quite an extensive plant in this city and now employs five men. The best way to encourage such an enterprise is for [illegible] to demand [illegible] made goods of their dealers.

Moore & Gillett's [illegible] specialty company will appear at the opera house on next Monday evening. An exchange says: They have enjoyed the enviable distinction of being the best and their hold on public esteem and confidence was never stronger than at the present time, due to the care they have always exercised in making their entertainment as [illegible] as it was clever and amusing.

The Pueblo Press of Tuesday contains the announcement of the filing of the plat of the sub division of that city to be known as North Pueblo, owned by a company of which Major John Hulburt is vice president, and J. A. Hayes, jr., secretary. Several streets in the addition bear names more or less familiar to Colorado Springs people, such as Hayes, Ehrich, Wheeler and Parsons avenues.

Justice Cowman yesterday sentenced Lee Forsult, a 14 year old boy, to a term of two years in the state reform school. The boy was caught stealing money from John Faber, an employe of the street car company who [illegible] ed at his h[illegible] He has been suspected of stealing for [illegible] time and yesterday was caught by marking [illegible] money. Officer Gathright left for Golden with young Forsult in the afternoon.

The Aspen and Colorado Springs ball clubs [illegible] in the diamond to-day. It will be the third game between these clubs this week. The Aspen boys won the last game and the Springs boys the one before and there will probably be a large audience present to see which will win the third.
